Chief Equity Officer Named

Columbia, MO -- Carla London has been selected as the chief equity officer for Columbia Public Schools. London's hiring will be approved by the Board of Education at its next regular meeting.

Over the last five years, London has served as Columbia Public Schools' supervisor for student and family advocacy and is currently the director of student services.

London has a variety of experience both in Columbia Public Schools and during her time in Texas. London was a Columbia Public Schools home-school communicator at the elementary level and coordinated the Aspiring Scholars program in our secondary schools from 2002-2006. During her time in Texas, she was a middle school social studies and language arts teacher at Round Rock Independent School District in Round Rock, Texas. Prior to that she was an emergency room social worker at Children's Medical Center of Dallas in Dallas, Texas.

London holds a master's degree in business administration from the University of Phoenix and a bachelor's degree in psychology from the University of Texas at Dallas.

"She is committed to furthering our work of reducing disparities among student groups while also advocating for all children in their pursuit of an excellent education," said Superintendent Peter Stiepleman.
