M.O.C.H.A
men of color, honor and ambition ambition, achievement, integrity, service, health and wellness

M.O.C.H.A is a partnership with the University of Missouri Division of Inclusion, Diversity & Equity.
What is M.O.C.H.A?

Men of Color, Honor and Ambition (M.O.C.H.A.) is a one-year initiative open to high school male students entering their junior year who are specifically designed for male students of color. M.O.C.H.A. is a partnership with the University of Missouri — Division of Inclusion, Diversity & Equity.

Our Vision

Students will achieve academic excellence, graduate from high school, attend a College or University, and be empowered to become successful leaders and role models in their respective future careers.

Goals

Students will achieve academic excellence, graduate from high school, attend a College or University, and be empowered to become successful leaders and role models in their respective future careers.

- Increase retention rates of men of color
- Foster a sense of community among participating adolescents
- Support and challenge men of color to achieve academic excellence
- Develop an increased awareness surrounding business acumen, etiquette, professional attire activities
- Promote involvement and inclusion in leadership activities
- Promote community service and engagement
- A suit, shirt and tie from local clothier Men’s Warehouse
- Executive leadership training from Dale Carnegie
- Mentoring from University of Missouri college students
- Health and wellness training from nationally renowned strength trainer
- A culinary class...and much more