

PUBLIC SERVICE LOAN FORGIVENESS

STEP 1—EXPLORE YOUR OPTIONS

Public Service Loan Forgiveness allows qualifying federal student loans to be forgiven after 10 years (120 months) of qualifying, on-time payments.

What is a qualifying loan? Only federal Direct Loans qualify for loan forgiveness. You may consolidate most other federal loans into a new Direct Loan in order to qualify.

What is a qualifying payment plan? Plans based on your income let you pay less now and set you up to have more forgiven later. For recent grads, Pay As You Earn (PAYE) is the best plan. Income-Based Repayment (IBR) is best for older loans.

STEP 2—ENROLL AND CERTIFY

Once you have a qualifying loan, you need to enroll in a qualifying payment plan and certify that you work in public service.

STEP 3—FOLLOW-UP WITH YOUR SERVICER

Once you certify, your servicer knows you are interested and can track your progress. The company that services your loan may change. Pay close attention to any information you receive about your student loan, even if it's from an unfamiliar company.

Get started

- ☑ Loan forgiveness depends on who you work for, not what you do. Any employee may be eligible for loan forgiveness, no matter what job they hold.
- ☑ Extended repayment plans don't count toward loan forgiveness. Avoid plans that let you repay your loan over a longer period (e.g. 20 or 25 years). Switch plans now to get credit for your service.
- ☑ You may qualify for other benefits, including loan forgiveness for teachers, cancellation for borrowers with Perkins loans and benefits offered by your state.
- ☑ Pay what you can on your private loans. You may be able to avoid making payments by asking for forbearance or deferment, but interest will accrue and you could owe much more when your payments pick back up.

Next steps

- ☑ Enroll in a qualifying payment plan. Get started at studentloans.gov.
- ☑ Certify that you work for a public service organization. You can find this form at consumerfinance.gov/pledge.

Things to consider

- ☑ Enroll and certify each year. This is the best way to keep your payment low and check to make sure you stay on track for loan forgiveness.
- ☑ Ask for help. You can contact a loan forgiveness specialist at FedLoan Servicing at (855) 265-4038.
