

CPS Virtual Middle School Update – September 7, 2020

Middle School Sea Lions!

Tomorrow is a big day...with many eager Sea Lions ready to get to it. Meanwhile, my email inbox is overflowing with AWESOME QUESTIONS about how to navigate your day (aka read your schedule!). So I've gathered some resources that might help. The "How to Read Your Middle School Schedule" helps "decode" all of the terms and abbreviations of the schedule. "The Middle School Daily Schedule With Times" will help to know what happens when. These are also posted on CPS MS Virtual.

- MS A/B Day Calendar for Virtual 20-21
- CPS Virtual Option FAQs for Parents
- How to Access Your Schedule -- NEW
- How to Read Your Middle School Schedule -- VIDEO -- NEW
- The Middle School Daily Schedule With Times -- PDF -- NEW

Two other things that might need clarification:

1. Although students can see their schedule today in HAC, they will not be able to access their classes in Schoology until tomorrow. Teacher/class ZOOM links will be listed in each individual class in Schoology when students open them tomorrow. Feel free to email your teachers with questions.
2. Tomorrow, Tuesday, is a B day (See "MS A/B Day Calendar for Virtual 20-21" for the year's A/B day calendar.)

Thank you for your patience,
